Goodwill of Southern Nevada is pleased to announce that Jon Guy has joined Goodwill of Southern Nevada as Director of Development and Marketing.

Jon's experience encompasses all aspects of development work from annual funds to capital campaigns. He has served as a major gifts officer, a planned giving officer, and most recently, Vice President of Strategic Development at Three Square. His non-profit skills are supported by business skills gained during a 22 year finance career with General Mills, in addition to many years of community service through volunteer work.

Originally from the Midwest, Jon holds dual degrees in English and Finance from the University of Minnesota. Additionally, he has extensive media training both in front of the camera as a spokesperson, and behind the camera as a strategist.

"Goodwill is extremely pleased to add Jon to our team." said Steve Chartrand, Goodwill of Southern Nevada President & CEO, "His experience in both non-profit and corporate sectors brings valuable knowledge to not only our Development and Marketing Team, but to Goodwill of Southern Nevada as a whole. We look forward to him creating new ways for the generous donors of Las Vegas to help people in our community get back to work".
